

PETS OF THE WEEK

Welcome Rambo! This handsome 1-year-old pup is new to Suncoast Humane Society and is looking for his forever home after his owner wanted a better life for him. He loves to play ball and adores car rides! He's also lived with kids before, so he's good with children. Come meet this sweet dog today!

Twinkie is the sweetest pup! She's always wagging that tail of hers and just as happy as she can be! Twinkie is a real lover and craves affection. She's just a year old and all she wants to do is curl up and snuggle with you on your couch or bed. Ready to come meet this adorable girl?

Cyrus is a cuddle bug just waiting to be scooped up and loved on! This silly 1- year-old boy loves to get belly rubs and chin scratches. He's affectionate and playful and will make some lucky person very happy one day. Is that person you?

Cali desperately needs a fur-ever home or a foster. She's been at the shelter for almost a year and while we all love her, we want what's best for her. She's 4 years old and is a beautiful Calico. She's a bit of regal lady and will play occasionally, but mostly enjoys laying around and just being a cat.

BOCASCOPE

Aries: Ever since you visited that botanical shop with the nice woman in the red turban, 3-21-4-19 you have the urge to bark like a small dog when someone says "asparagus." Don't let your guard down; it only takes a split second for a random demon to entrench itself in your energy and your entrails. Boca Grande is particularly known for such things. Keep on the diet; you're saving farting COWS.

Taurus: You're being watched by the Rabbit of Easter. It doesn't end well unless you leave a sacrificial offering of expresso bellevitano cheese and Fresco by the Calusa Man in Sam Murphy park. Stop eating all the strawberries and leave some for your husband; he's hungry and in need of vitamin C.

Gemini: An opportunity to follow your dream of crossbreeding apples and artichokes 5-21-6-20 comes about: Pursue it. Follow it. Do a sage smudge on all of your important possessions and body parts before Sunday ... especially if you are taking Chantix.

Cancer: On Tuesday resist the strong urge to kick open the Inn Bakery door while twirling breadsticks tied to your hips and say, "Who's up for a showdown in front of The Barnichol?" We've heard there's a guy in there named "Red-eye Reecher" who is always ready for a gunfight ... and he's pretty quick. All of the Easter eggs. All of them.

Leo: While your mother may keep telling you you're beautiful, it might be time to ask a random and objective stranger. Your dog may keep telling you that love triumphs over all, but when it comes to steak all bets are off.

Virgo: Bouncy balls play a part in your Tuesday. There will be no time for macramé on Friday, leaving your Aunt Ginnie filled with a sense of despair and resolute longing. Do not buy the oranges that are on sale at Publix.

Libra: A murder of crows outside your front door on Wednesday will signify a great change in the Force. Subsequently you will be purging items that have too much purple or are made of balsa wood. A loud bang in the night on Monday signifies your lost dreams of childhood just broke the sound barrier on the way out of this plane of existence.

Scorpio: Take a break this week and allow yourself some moments of compulsive nothingness. Sit in the garden and stare at the sky, sit in the bathtub and stare at your cuticles ... just do some sitting and staring the world will fall into place. Eat green vegetables and walnuts to ward off evil mar-moset spirits.

Sagittarius: Contemplate the seahorse. Just do it. And don't steal all the Easter candy from the kids.

Capricorn: Your dreams are becoming prophetic. While they may not have banned the letters "C" and "X" from the alphabet yet, but you did wake up in the middle of Banyan Street naked from the waist down while rolling a red grape between your thumb and forefinger. Maybe next week you'll get the winning Lotto numbers.

Aquarius: The time of the honey baked ham is upon you, so make sure you drink plenty of water and sleep at least eight hours to avoid puffiness. Eschew the pastel socks in favor of the flaming red flip flops, unless you're going to be running in an egg hunt or from the cops. Taking some time to get to know your niece at a family gathering will re-affirm to you that demons walk the earth. Spray painting random graffiti on buildings isn't excused just because you used pastels ... please remember that.

Pisces: You'll find yourself wondering why you upgraded to a phone that no longer fits in your pocket. Lots of questions for the universe this week, lots of cooks in the kitchen, lots of crabs in the pot. Beware.
