

Look to the stars and know the future ...

BOGASCOPIES

Aries: There's no telling where you'll end up this week ... on a midnight train to Bangor, on a tall ship to your Aunt

3-21-4-19

Rae's house or on a giant mousetrap, reaching for the cheese. The wanderlust has got you now – If you succumb, prepare for the potential consequences. Avoid bratty boxer dogs, but if you encounter one remind them of Euripides' plea to his dog about voiding his bowels outside.

Taurus: People have been trying to tell you something for about a month now, but they don't know how to say it. We're not going to tell you what it is, either. Just know you should know. A small gathering of skeletal pirates will greet you at the door when you attempt to visit a favorite relative.

Gemini: A large bird might void on you, then giggle. You won't hear the giggles, but they were emitted. A black mug of something will be offered to you ... dare you drink it? Why not. Just make sure you don't have anything important to do the next day.

Cancer: Have you noticed the abundant amount of crows lately? If you're wondering who they caw for, they caw for thee. Leave them a snack and see if they gift with you with something in return. If you listened to the tones on Wednesday, prepare to turn into one of the crab people.

6-21-7-22

Leo: You can consult the stars all you want, but they're not going to do you a lot of good when the crab people come (those damnable tones). An Asian marmot with a lisp will find his way to you. His name is Leopold and he's good people. In a manner of speaking.

7-23-8-22

Virgo: Do you ever just lean back, reflect long and hard on all the knowledge you've been afforded in your life and think, "Man. Those Blues Brothers really had it right." Get the garbage out in time, otherwise that fish will be stinking for another week. Yes, that's a metaphor, but seriously, don't forget the garbage.

8-23-9-22

Libra: When you hear an unknown source outside your window whistling the theme from "Lassie," let it bring you no solace in your time of need. The discovery of a rhinoceros beetle in your pool should be followed up by saving it. It will grant you three wishes, but will warn against asking for perishable items, such as summer sausages.

9-23-10-22

Scorpio: If you want to stop waking up smelling like jerky and desperation, hide that juiceless mystery meat somewhere inaccessible. That way, you'll just smell like desperation. Treating the tiny buffalos with disdain and arrogance won't bring Sally to the dance, so stop that.

10-23-11-21

Sagittarius: There is so much going on in your life right now ... and it all seems wrong.

11-22-12-21

Remember the definition of insanity and try something different. For instance, instead of alcohol, try yak milk (except at The Temp when it opens this weekend, that's different).

Capricorn: The person in your life who is a never-ending source of annoyance could be taken care of.

12-22-1-19

Consider a ritual involving a ball of hair from the drain of an Italian man, a small drop of goat's milk and a large spoonful of your neighbor dog's gland juice. Concentrate on curbing your urge to whine about your woe, and instead speak positive affirmations that you will find in the lap of the goat guru.

Aquarius: You have a constant battle in your head lately between what you should say and what you want to say. On Thursday it might be time to let the fur fly, then make a nice coat and a stole from said fur. Parade around your foe wearing your newly-acquired garments, made from that same foe's shredded pride. Or not. Maybe try being kind.

Pisces: If a man in a white van with no windows stops you on the street and asks if you want some candy, consider answering in the affirmative and hopping in. Adventure time! A small snake found in your porterweed bush will tell you a secret that will change your life.
