

THE BOCA BEACON AROUND THE WORLD

Mount Etna is a stratovolcano located in southern Italy. Together with volcanoes such as Kīlauea, it is considered one of the most active volcanoes on Earth.

In 2002, a powerful eruption destroyed the ski lift, two hotels and several shops at around 1,900 meters above sea level.

The most recent significant eruptive episode occurred in December 2021. On December 13, a lateral vent opened at approximately 2,800 meters. The eruption lasted about 48 hours
